In Memoriam

JAMES IRWIN

Class of 1951

Died of Polio August 24, 1952

*It singeth low in every heart,
We hear it each and all;
A song of those who answer not
However we may call.
They throng the silence of the breast;
Who see them as of yore.
The kind, the true, the brave, the sweet,
Who walk with us no more!*

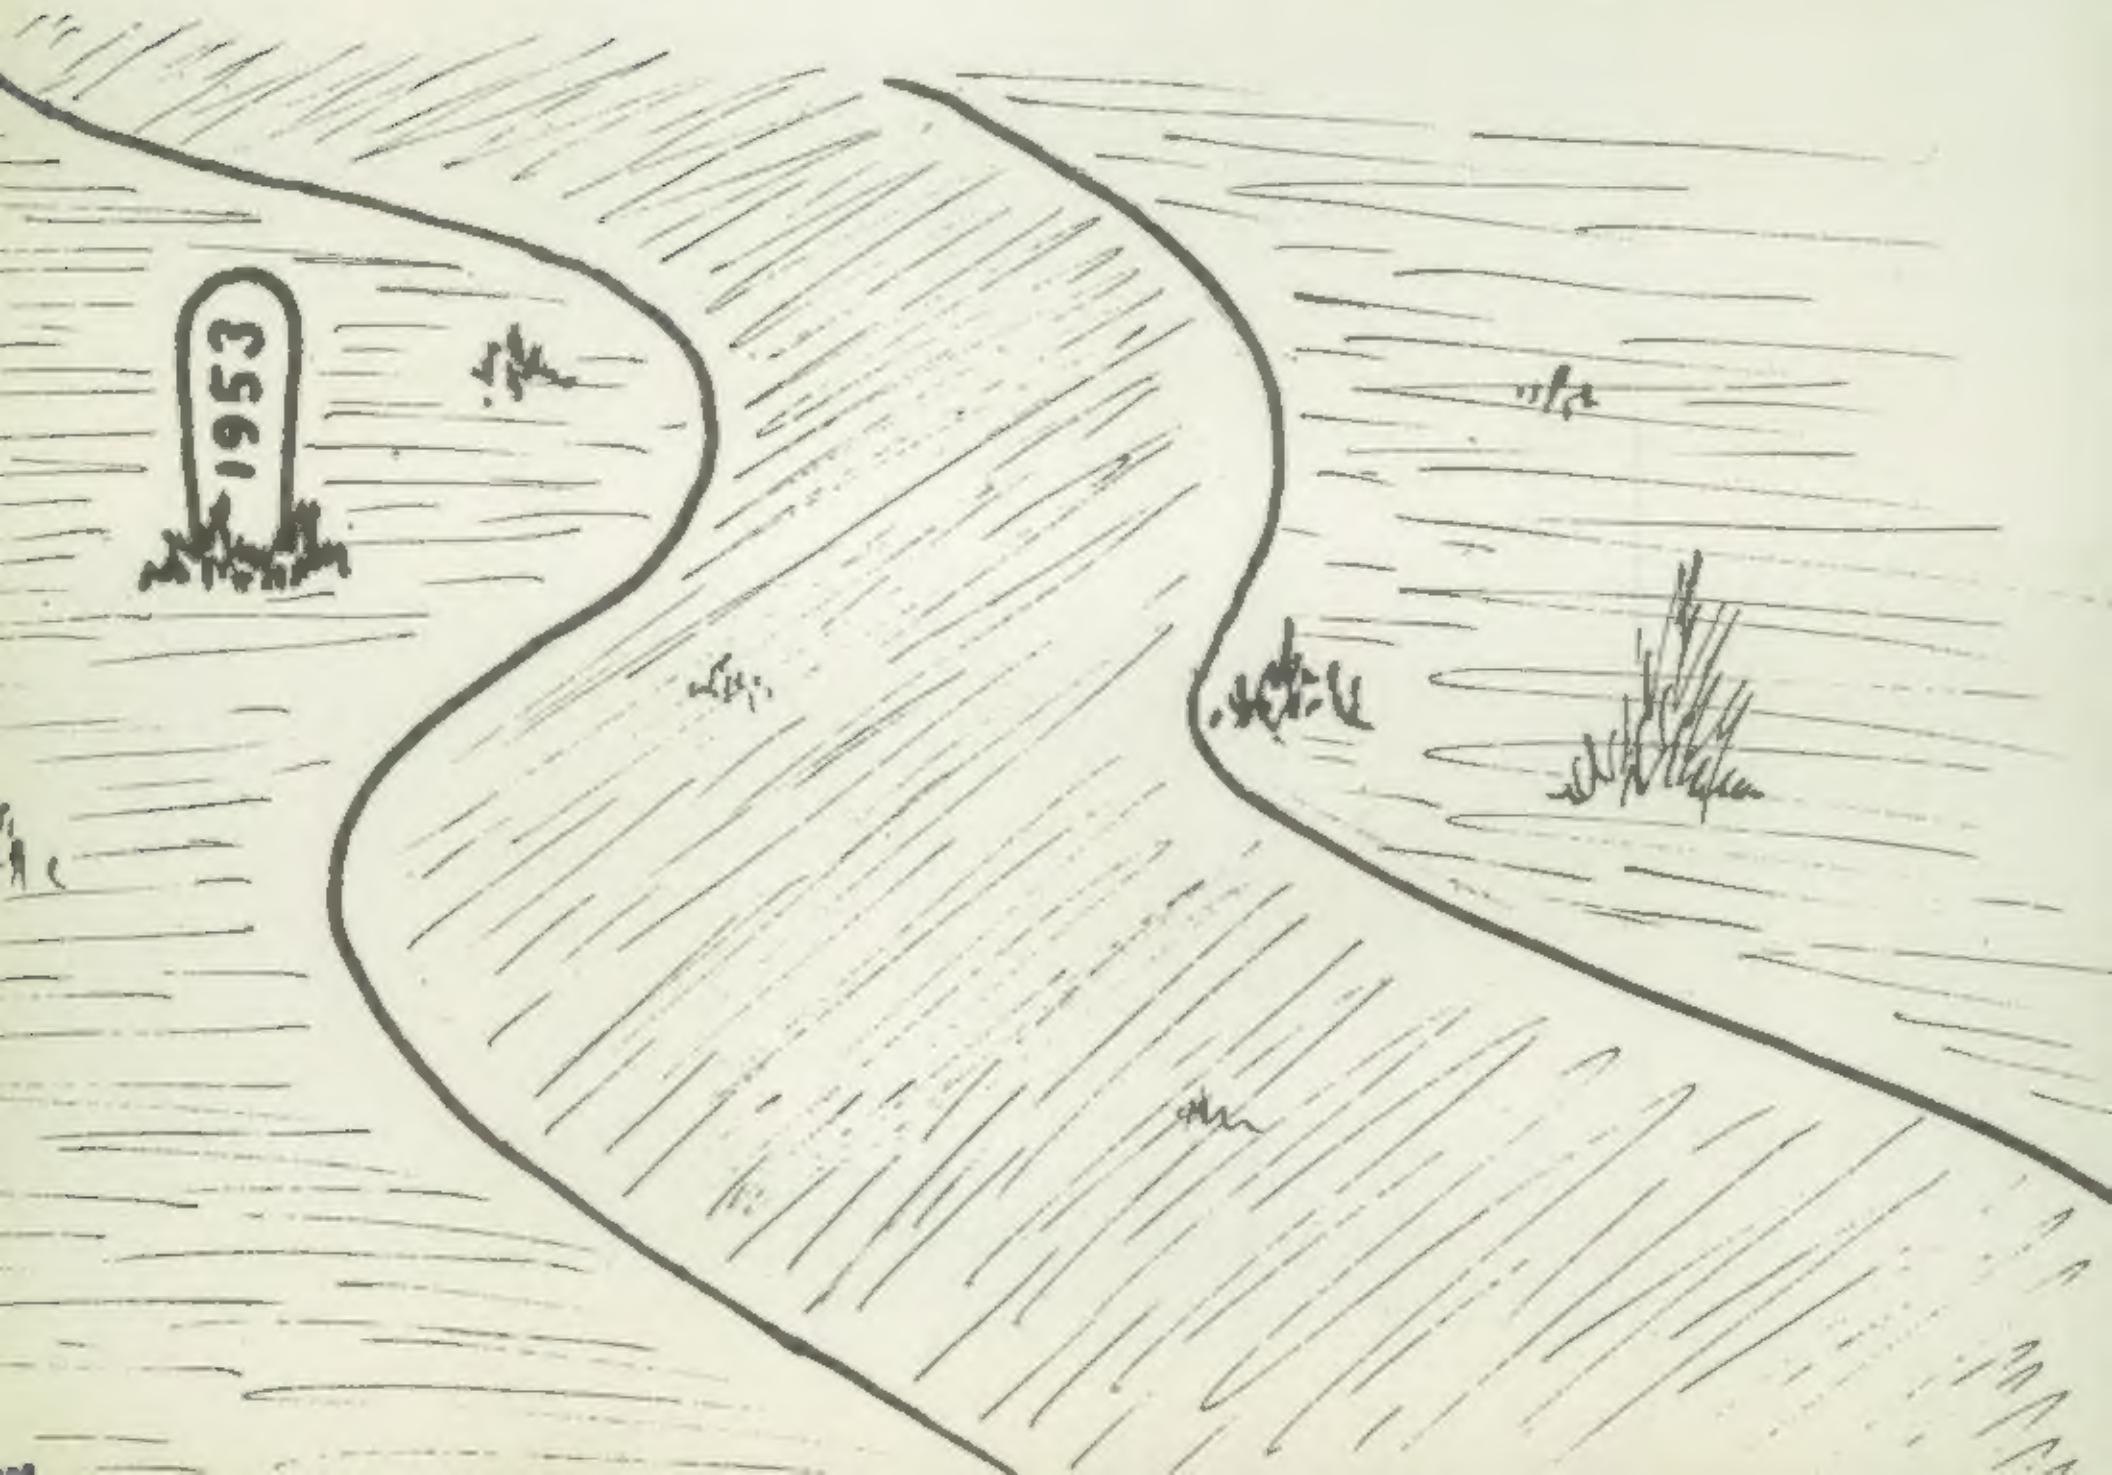

Foreword

The Road of Life

The journey of life will be long for some of us, short for others. However long or short, the journey will be only as successful as we endeavor to make it. The first eighteen years of this journey have led us through our initial educative period. As we look back over these years we find that most of our travels have been over fairly smooth roads. These have been happy, carefree days. We sincerely hope that wherever your road of life may lead you it will be a happy and successful one. We also hope that in the years to come, as you glance through these pages, you will be able to retrace your footsteps with your friends and re-live your high school days.

Sophomores

The sophomore class was included in several new activities this year. It was their first year in vocal music, in which they made a good impression by being included in many small groups, and it was their first year for high school athletics where they proved to be successful. They also exhibited their talents by winning both "jugs" at the homecoming festivities.

FIRST ROW: David Monroe, Nannie Bixby, Shirley Smith, Phyllis Schaeffer, Steven Fornier, Walter McClellan, Donald Trees

Freshman

The country students who came in this year made a very valuable addition to the freshman class. These "seniors" of junior high were respected for their athletic ability displayed in junior high sports and dolphin show and their acting and musical ability demonstrated junior high night.

OUR COOKS

From early morning until late afternoon and sometimes late evening these people are on the job to serve us.

The office secretaries see to it that we get our make up slips, our report cards, our transcripts of grades. They are there to serve our wants whether it be for scotch tape, paper clips, paper, stamps, etc. Besides these "little duties" they handle all of the secretarial work at both buildings. Our school buildings are something we are justly proud of. However, if it weren't for the untiring efforts of the custodians we probably could not make that statement. They are constantly on the job to keep the buildings clean, neat and attractive. It would be a long day without the forty-five minute noon hour. And our favorite pastime is "feeding our faces." Thanks to the cooks, those noon lunches help to stop the pangs of hunger and hold us over until after school.

Student Council acts as the student-governing body at Sac City High School. During the school year these students, under the co-direction of Mr. Hoffman and Mr. Rutherford, work diligently on many fine projects.

All of us will recall the Yuletide-spirit which filled the front hill in the form of a gayly decorated Christmas tree. This was the first year for this project by the Council. Student Council also sponsors the school assemblies, the annual Career Day program. The fine all-school Valentine's Day party was sponsored by the Council.

Representatives are elected from each homeroom and these students constitute the membership of the Student Council.

"The first day our school can enter is the day preceding membership in the National Honor Society. Students must keep Character and Service at the top of their list. Members of this organization must have to be elected to this society. Furthermore, members must maintain these personal traits to be worthy of membership in National Honor Society. The assembly to initiate new members was held March 19.

At this assembly the new members were initiated. These students were James King, Jean Pallen, Bonnie Rodgers, Donald Iverson, Pattie Freeman, Sally Wayt, William Rehder, Shirley Schug, and Lou Rae McCrea. Parents and relatives of these members attended the assembly.

Following initiation, the new members were entertained by the old members at a dinner. Mr. Rutherford is the faculty sponsor of National Honor Society.

With a staff of well-trained bloodhounds and four typists, including the sponsor, Mr. Hoffman, this organization worked diligently to provide us with the most spectacular and amazing news since the dropping of the A-bomb. Not only did they use their talents but they discovered your talents, and from this, presented the "Sentinel Varieties of '52," which proved to be a gigantic success.

"WHERE'S THE BOYS' SPORTS COPY? What happened to the picture of Student Council? Bonnie, can you pick up the pictures at 4 P. M.? Now you people don't forget to be here at 7 P. M." Crazy? No, not quite; although we may sometimes sound like it. Despite the clowning around by this Senior group during fifth period each day much work was accomplished. These hard working, eager beavers, did everything from sticking their foot in someone's door trying to sell ads to leaving notes of advice on the board for Miss Castle's sixth hour American History class. Our aim was to bring you a bigger and better 1953 Chieftain. We sincerely hope we have achieved, at least partly, our goal.

Librarians

Phyllis Stoelting, Francis Schug, Jane Shull, Julie Young, Mary Liechty, Glenna Smith.

The busiest members of any organization in Sac City High School are the Librarians. These unsung heroines serve each and everyone of us from early morning until late afternoon each school day. They not only check out books, but they have to track down the "Sac Sun," keep the card files straight, post notices on the bulletin board, and as Miss Howe, their sponsor, says, "they even check books in."

Sometimes the long assignments the teachers gave turned out more work for the Librarians than for the students. It was always so much easier to have these helpful gals find the material for us. If badges of merit were to be awarded, we feel that the Librarians each deserve one.

Initiations, parties, concessions, spending money. These things pretty well sum up what the Commercial Club did this past year. In January, fifteen new members were initiated and in February they held the fort at the gym for concessions at five basketball games. In the Spring they used this hard earned money to help purchase an electric mimeograph machine for the school. Jim King, the only male member, served as President.

This club, open to members of the present Latin class, is under the direction of the Latin instructor, Miss Karstens. In their meetings they have activities directed toward understanding Roman history, customs, government, religion, and architecture.

During their course of study the members made posters, a map and timetable, and illustrations in the form of figurines, and mosaics to show some Roman gods and goddesses and Roman culture. Perhaps this club may be one of the smaller organizations in school but they have certainly done things in a big way this year.

Between the bruised shins and knees, sore muscles, and lost games, the tournaments for the G.A.A. girls provided a lot of fun and excitement. These gals battled through the volley-ball, hockey, and basketball tournaments with a lot of good sportsmanship and pep. These "athletes" don't spend all their time with sports. During the year the girls sponsored a couple of parties—a hayride and a school party. Miss Florine, girls physical education instructor, sponsors this group.

From the gym on Monday evenings
We can hear way down the hall

Or of a bat against the ball.

It's a flashy game of flashy girls,
Oh—these girls of G.A.A.

The Future Farmers of America started their program this year with a hayride. The big social event of their program, however, came in November with the choosing of Phyllis Bogue as their F.F.A. Sweetheart at the annual F.F.A. "Harvest Ball." The future Farmers also enjoyed a Parent-Son Pancake Supper. Ronald Kolbe was champion pancake eater, putting seventeen pancakes "down the hatch."

In the Spring came the annual convention at Waterloo. Many hours were spent in preparation for the Parliamentary Procedure contest. If one noticed those little "brown books" the boys were studying like beavers on, it was the rules for Parliamentary Procedures and not their date books. Mr. Gene Severson, Vocational Agriculture Instructor, sponsors the group.

Where do you find a busier group of gals? The buzzing in the home-making room is not a bunch of bees, but instead a group of very ambitious girls making plans for their F.H.A. chapter. The F.H.A. girls were kept busy this year with their formal dance, pot luck supper, informal party, films, and U.N.E.S.C.O. coupons. These gals also found time to attend conventions at Ruthven and Rolfe. They are also very proud to have a state officer in their organization. She is Shirley Patterson, State Secretary. The F.H.A. had a large membership this year and each gal helped to make it a very successful organization.

"Play for Fun" is the Seventh and Eighth grade girls' sports organization. These younger athletes sponsored a play day. The P.F.F. also sponsored a fourth, fifth and sixth grade swimming party. They also played several tournaments. Miss Florine, Girls' Physical Education Instructor, directs the activities of this group

It's a loud splash and a spray of water off the pool's edge and another meeting of the Dolphins gets under way.

These "mermaids" practiced hard for their annual Dolphin show which was presented April 13. The theme of this year's show was "Foreign Countries". With the musical background giving the moods the girls presented their swimming interpretation of the music. The Dolphins chose their queen to reign at their show.

After the performance there were signs of conspiracy as Miss Florine went into the pool, aided by several members of the cast. Miss Florine, Girls' Physical Education Instructor, sponsors the Dolphins.

Christmas Vespers

The Christmas Vesper service is probably the most impressive annual service held by the school. This program is put on by the combined glee clubs. It has come to be a tradition with the townspeople and signifies the beginning of the Christmas season for many.

This year's service was composed of nearly one hundred students, and their hard work was not in vain.

Throughout the year, the music groups composed of fifty-two girls and twenty-eight fellows are busy presenting the Operetta, the Christmas Vespers, and providing a musical background for various assemblies as well as for Baccalaureate and Commencement. At the beginning of the year both music groups sold magazine subscriptions to raise funds for the Music Department. Sally Wayt and George Glass tied for the top salesman award.

Every period of the day we hear melodious (?) sounds emanating from the auditorium, and that, my friends, indicates the musicians are hard at work.

The membership of the marching and concert band is made up principally of the same students. But, the students don't seem to mind the double amount of work that such membership calls for. Sac City High School has a marching band and a concert band of which we are justly proud. This year the Marching Band took a first place in the State Contest held November 19. Did you ever stop to imagine what a school would be without a band? If you haven't, stop now and let's try to imagine how it would be. There would be no Star Spangled Banner played at the beginning of the football games to make you feel proud of being an American. There would be no entertainment during the half and, believe me, those benches would seem twice as hard if there were nothing else on which to concentrate. During the basketball games and pep assemblies the band helps us to get in the mood for an exciting game.

Now, it's something to have a band, but it's another thing to have a good band. We'd like to take this opportunity to tell all the band members and their director, Mr. Roy Holtz, that we think you have done a wonderful job this year and we are justly proud of you.

FIRST ROW - David Montag, Gene Schramm, Eddie Robson, Jack Peyton, Jerry Leyton, Dwight Bunting, Don Schratz, Dick Galloway, Alden Luke, Keith Bunting, Larry Freese.

The football squad of 1952 was a team of spirit and determination.

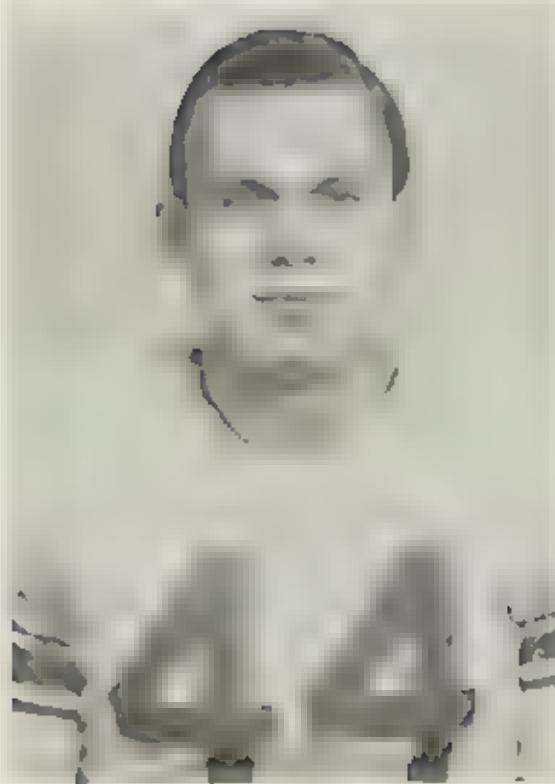

It was composed mostly of boys who averaged from ten to twenty pounds less than their opponents. But this team ended the season with the best record Sac City has had for many years. The lone loss of the year was a by a single touchdown to a very strong Jefferson team. The boys came back with an eye for victory and won the remainder of their games. At the end of the season they were honored by being ranked tenth team in the State of Iowa.

They were further honored when Ray Pierson was elected to the DES MOINES REGISTER'S All-state fourth team.

Coaches Halford and Hermann and the team of 1952 are to be congratulated.

It looked pretty dark to the followers of the basketball squad after the first few games of the season, for the Indians were slow in getting started.

A slow start was all though, for they really surprised many of the teams which had beaten them in their first encounters. By gaining revenge over Carroll, Jefferson and Harlan they finished the season close on the heels of the conference leaders and finished the season with a 11 won, 7 lost record.

Probably the greatest thrill of the season was the Indians surprise victory over Eagle Grove in a double overtime contest. Eagle Grove was considered very strong in the Northwest but the scrapping warriors surprised them with their point producing and the outcome was the high scoring contest of 78-76.

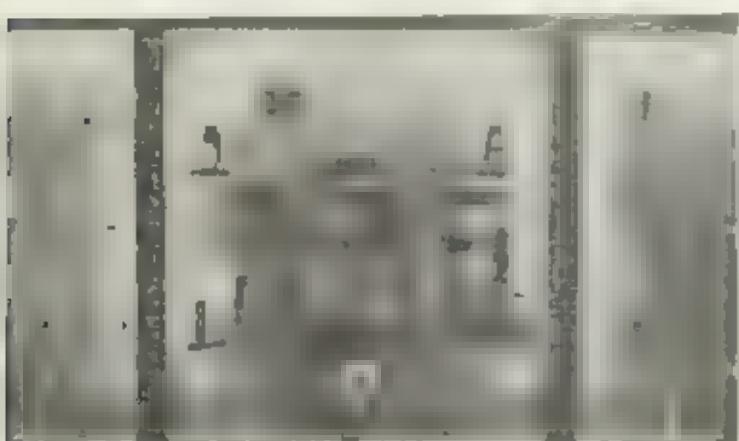

The Indians had the misfortune of meeting an excellent Odebolt team in their first appearance in the tournaments. Odebolt's skill coupled with a cold night for the local boys set them down in defeat and finished the season. Although this isn't the best season Sac City has had, the team is still to be congratulated as it certainly was better than some.

THE STAFF

Jr. High Sports

Under the able direction of a new coach, Mr. Richard Camp, the Papooses made a fine showing in all the sports in which they participated. The varsity teams of the future come from these junior high teams and there seems to be some pretty promising prospects for several years to come.

One thing very noticeable this year was the way in which each boy really put forth honest effort to play his hardest. Mr. Camp kept the boys busy all of the practices and the dividends showed in the amount of improvement they made during the year. Good luck in the future to the Papooses.

Lots of spirit, lots of enthusiasm, that describes our cheerleaders. They had very successful seasons this year as shown by voicelessness after the games. The players especially appreciate the cheerleaders because whether the crowd in attendance is large or small these gals can really stir up the steam.

Thanks for the Memories

Another class of Seniors are donning their caps and gowns—Another school year is over, its memories never to be forgotten—

Another Chieftain is-out and we hope that you will find much enjoyment in it today and in the years to come—

We had a lot of fun compiling these memories for you, the student body of Sac City High School.

SPECIAL THANKS TO:

SEMCO COLOR PRESS and AGATHA CAMPBELL, PAUL BENNETT and DALE NELSON whose helping hands and extra attention gave you this yearbook.

JOHNSON STUDIO and to MR. JOHNSON who was on call night and day to take the pictures which you find within these covers. LeROY KRUSKOP who defied altitude and a rickety ladder to get the aerial view of the marching band.

To Our ADVERTISERS whose financial support makes this book possible.

The FACULTY at Sac City High School for their fine co-operation in getting the organization pictures taken.

My CO-WORKERS for their fine co-operation in producing the 1953 CHIEFTAIN.

MR. C. S. GRIEWE for granting us permission to enlarge our number of pages in order that we could bring you a bigger CHIEFTAIN.

MISS MARY CASTLE, our sponsor, who put up with an awful lot but still says that she enjoyed every minute of working with us.

And now, though our footsteps will lead us far apart we will not forget you. Good luck to each of you.

Sincerely,

BONNIE RODGERS

Editor-in-Chief

1953 Chieftain.
